About_{us}

Raj kamal has been in the printing field for over 12 years, and we have earned the loyalty of some of the top corporate houses in India with our quality, timeliness and customer-services.

We see ourselves as apart of our customers' team, and add value in various capacities. We firmly believe that the most important thing for a customer is the "price-performance" rather than just price. We guide the customer in the selection of paper, the most economical sizes and how to get the performance for the price.

Our Working style

In our printing rooms, each job is treated individually with respect to its own character. With a top of the line printing technology combined with our legendary skills, we deliver printing to meet your expectations and your deadlines most accurately.

By placing responsibility for everything in our hands the client can be assured of a uniform quality and appearance in all aspects of their advertising and promotion campaign. This is essential for reasons of corporate identity. Importantly, it also permits Raj Kamal to offer the very lowest prices consistent with quality products and service.

Our quality policy

We at Raj Kamal will spare no effort to ensure complete customer satisfaction by:

- Partnering with our customers to provide cost-effective, timely & world-class printing.
- Seeking active involvement & participation of Employees at all levels.
- Actively investigating & investing in Technology to continually improve quality & productivity
- Treating vendors as partners in progress
- Ensuring complete Fairness in all transactions & compliance to all legal & statutory requirements.
- Contributing to the society at large.

We are one-stop service provider with prepress, printing and finishing/bindery under a single roof. We have the capacity and the redundancy built into the system to handle your largest jobs with the quickest turn-around time.

The most important component of any work flow are the people. Raj Kamal boasts of an excellent work of highly motivated people trained in-house and adept at handling state-of-the-art equipment.

We provides a one-stop facility where a customer can get their printing and related requirements fulfilled under one roof. We pride ourselves that our customers think of us as part of their team rather than just a supplier. We strive to understand your needs and requirements and translate them into best possible printed products to match your needs. Our marketing and customer service executives bring their knowledge and experience to the process to help you spec out the job and get you best value. They have best experience in the field of Printing/advertising.
